WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES CONSTRUCTION IS COMPLETE ON AMG NATIONAL TRUST BANK HEADQUARTERS IN GREENWOOD VILLAGE

DENVER (November 17, 2015) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced that construction is complete on AMG National Trust Bank’s new corporate headquarters in Greenwood Village, Colo. The building is located at the northwest corner of East Caley Avenue and Greenwood Plaza Boulevard near Fiddler’s Green Amphitheater. Ware Malcomb provided architectural and interior design services for the project.

AMG National Trust Bank recently relocated to their new corporate headquarters from their prior location in Denver. The new building serves as an architectural centerpiece in the Greenwood Village Town Center District, while complementing the surrounding buildings.

The structure employs a hybrid design featuring Old World Classical Tuscan styling and select detailing modeled after The Palace of the Rhine in Strasbourg, France, a landmark of 19th century Prussian architecture. The three-story, 45,000 square foot building features a prominent dome on the third floor suitable for hosting private and public events. A palette of rich materials including smooth and rough cut limestone veneer blocks, precast stone columns and window surrounds, and a clay tile roof were used for the exterior. The building’s interior public spaces have been accented with classical stone and wood detailing throughout, while the two-story main lobby features marble floors with precast stone balustrades on the stairways and balconies.

“We utilized timeless design tenets to represent the strength and stability of AMG National Trust Bank as a trusted financial institution,” said Matt Chaiken, Regional Director of Ware Malcomb’s Denver office. “In addition to reflecting the stature of AMG, the building also serves as a community landmark that brings Old World European design to this prominent Denver suburb.”

“The construction of our new headquarters represents an exciting next step in our company’s 40-year history,” said AMG president and CEO Sheryl Bollinger. “This stunning building embodies the strength and permanence of our conviction to our clients’ success. We are pleased to bring over 80 of our 130 nationwide employees into such a remarkable new facility in Greenwood Village.”
