WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES NEW OFFICE OPENING IN DOWNTOWN SAN DIEGO

SAN DIEGO (August 16, 2016) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced that it is opening a second office in the San Diego metro area located at 600 B Street, Suite 2070. The new downtown office location will provide design services to clients in this important market.

Ware Malcomb has already designed several projects in the downtown area, including recent projects for clients including CPC Strategy, Mindtouch and Noonan Lance Boyer & Banach LLP. “In addition to accommodating our firm’s rapid growth, our new downtown location will bring our interior architecture, design and branding services closer to the clients we serve,” said Tiffany English, Principal of Ware Malcomb. “We look forward to joining San Diego’s vibrant downtown business community, and to expanding our commercial interior design services in this growing market.”

Principal Tiffany English leads and oversees the growth of both the San Diego and downtown San Diego offices. Catharine Hughes, Ware Malcomb Studio Manager, Interior Architecture and Design, will assist in managing the new downtown San Diego office location. Ware Malcomb Regional Vice President Matt Brady has overall responsibility for the firm’s San Diego operations, along with its offices in Phoenix, Atlanta, Panama and Mexico.

Ware Malcomb opened its first office in San Diego in 1984. Additional projects recently completed in the region include providing interior architecture and design, branding, and workplace strategy services for the new 13,000 square foot office of Cubic Corporation in San Diego; providing architecture and interior design services for the new 54,688 square foot Hoehn Motors Audi Dealership in Carlsbad; and providing interior design services for the new offices of MediaTek in San Diego.
