REDBOX SELECTS WARE MALCOMB AS ARCHITECT OF RECORD OF NEW BELLEVUE OFFICE

SEATTLE (November 14, 2018) – Ware Malcomb partnered with Redbox to design and architect the company’s new Bellevue, Washington office, which is home to CEO Galen Smith and a team of senior leaders at Redbox.

Serving as Architect of Record, Ware Malcomb designed a space inspired by Redbox’s leadership in the home entertainment industry, including conference rooms themed around popular movies, such as a “Draft Day,” complete with green carpet and football helmets.

“We wanted to design a dynamic and collaborative office environment for Redbox that would inspire the employees who work there every day,” said Cindy Kang, LEED AP, Director, Interior Architecture & Design of Ware Malcomb’s Seattle office. “This new space meets the company’s current needs while also accommodating future growth.”

Redbox has three offices, including its headquarters in Oakbrook Terrace, IL, an LA team in Woodland Hills, CA and Bellevue, WA.

Redbox is America’s destination for affordable and convenient new-release movie and video game rentals. When it was founded in 2002, the company revolutionized the way Americans rent movies on the belief that consumers deserve a convenient way to rent movies at a low nightly price. Today, Americans have rented more than 5 billion discs from 41,500 Redbox kiosks in communities nationwide and the company’s newest offering, Redbox On Demand, delivers an even broader selection of movies and TV shows via transactional video on demand (VOD) and electronic sell-through (EST).
