WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES TREVOR WELLS HAS JOINED SAN DIEGO OFFICE

SAN DIEGO (January 9, 2019) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced Trevor Wells has joined the firm as Studio Manager, Science & Technology in the San Diego office. In this role Wells will lead the growth of the Science & Technology Studio for the San Diego office and manage select projects.

Wells brings over 20 years of architectural experience to his new role at Ware Malcomb. While his expertise is focused on the Science & Technology sector, he also has extensive experience in designing commercial office, healthcare and industrial projects.

“We are excited to welcome Trevor to the Ware Malcomb team,” said Tiffany English, Principal of Ware Malcomb’s San Diego offices. “His in-depth knowledge and skill set, particularly in the area of science & technology design, reinforces our firm’s strong capabilities across multiple industries in the San Diego market.”

Over the last decade, Wells has focused his career on the planning, design and construction of scientific research and manufacturing facilities. Wells specializes in life science laboratories, interdisciplinary engineering environments, physical science laboratories, biocontainment (BSL) labs and research facilities, vivaria, clean room environments, and biopharmaceutical manufacturing facilities. As a laboratory planning and design architect, Wells designs human-centered, sustainable lab environments integrated with the latest technology.

Wells is a California Licensed Architect and LEED Accredited Professional who holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of California, San Diego.

Ware Malcomb recently moved into a new, larger office space located at 3911 Sorrento Valley Blvd, Suite 120 in San Diego. The move was driven by the growth of the firm’s local employee and client base. Ware Malcomb has 22 offices across North America, including a second local office at 600 B Street, Suite 2070 in downtown San Diego.
