WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES CARRICK BOSHART JOINS PLEASANTON OFFICE AS DIRECTOR, ARCHITECTURE

PLEASANTON, Calif. (January 28, 2020) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced Carrick Boshart has joined the firm as Director, Architecture in the Pleasanton office. Working under Principal Jim Terry, Boshart leads the growth and management of the Architecture Studio and oversees all architecture projects for the Pleasanton office.

Boshart joins Ware Malcomb with over 20 years of architecture and construction experience. Boshart brings experience leading a wide range of project management teams with an emphasis on operations. He has overseen planning, design, budgeting and construction for a variety of complex architectural projects including cost estimating, financial and budget management, business development, project scheduling, sustainability, operational efficiency, construction, competitive bidding and building code compliance.

“We are very excited to welcome Carrick to the Ware Malcomb team. We look forward to his many contributions in the areas of both architectural design and operational leadership in the years to come,” said Gary Drew, Regional Vice President of Ware Malcomb’s Pleasanton office.

“As Director, Architecture, Carrick will fill a key role on the Pleasanton leadership team in assisting in business development and operations,” said Jim Terry, Principal, Architecture. “I am looking forward to partnering with him to grow the architecture studio and increase our project diversification.”

A licensed architect in the State of California, Boshart holds a Bachelor of Architecture degree from California Polytechnic State University, Pomona. He is a Member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), AIA Santa Clara, U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC), National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB), International Council of Shopping Centers (ICSC), National Association of Office and Industrial Parks (NAOIP), and Real Estate & Construction Networking (RECON).
