WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES ED MAYER PROMOTED TO PRINCIPAL IN NEWARK OFFICE

NEWARK, N.J. (April 23, 2020) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced Edward Mayer has been promoted to Principal, Architecture in the New York and Newark offices. In this position, Mayer is responsible for the overall leadership and growth of the Architecture Studios for the Northeast region.

“Ed’s 25+ years of architectural experience and strong management skills have been a tremendous asset to Ware Malcomb’s Northeast regional operations,” said Kenneth Wink, Chief Executive Officer of Ware Malcomb. “His leadership has led to the continued expansion of our services in multiple states throughout the region. We congratulate Ed on his success and well-deserved promotion to Principal.”

A licensed architect in New York and New Jersey, Mayer joined Ware Malcomb in 2016 as Studio Manager, Architecture for the firm’s New Jersey office. As a result of his success in growing the architecture practice, in 2018 he was promoted to Director, Architecture for the New Jersey and New York offices. Mayer has worked across the region on significant projects in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New York and Maryland, including several multistory distribution buildings as well as large land planning assignments.

Mayer holds a Bachelor’s degree in Architecture from the University of Notre Dame. He is an active member of NAIOP, the Commercial Real Estate Development Association, and represents Ware Malcomb at industry events throughout the region.

Mayer was one of three people recently elevated to the position of Principal within Ware Malcomb’s offices across North America. Ware Malcomb also announced the promotion of Mary Cheval to Principal, Interior Architecture & Design in the firm’s Irvine, Calif. office and Jason Dooley to Principal in the Atlanta, Georgia office.
