WARE MALCOMB ANNOUNCES KEITH MALLOY HAS JOINED THE FIRM AS CIVIL ENGINEERING PROJECT MANAGER IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES (January 6, 2020) – Ware Malcomb, an award-winning international design firm, today announced Keith Malloy, PE has joined Ware Malcomb’s Civil Engineering team as a Project Manager in the Los Angeles office. In this role, Malloy will oversee civil projects in the LA region. He will work closely with Luke Corsbie, Ware Malcomb Director of Civil Engineering, who has responsibility for the overall growth and management of civil engineering services for the Southern California region.

Malloy brings over 12 years of experience in the civil engineering field to Ware Malcomb. Prior to joining Ware Malcomb, Malloy was a project manager with a local Los Angeles firm, and previously worked in the Boston market. His experience includes a wide variety of land development projects, including retail, mixed-use, multifamily, healthcare, and senior living.

“Keith’s technical background, management aptitude and extensive experience make him a great addition to the team,” said Chris Strawn, Ware Malcomb Principal. “He will be working with Luke Corsbie to grow our civil engineering practice in the Los Angeles market, and they will continue to build upon the recent civil project success in the region.” Strawn is responsible for the leadership and expansion of civil engineering services across Ware Malcomb’s offices in North America.

Ware Malcomb’s Civil Engineering team specializes in land development projects, with a focus on efficient design practices to create successful projects for clients. The team has worked on commercial office, industrial, healthcare, public, education, retail/restaurant, mixed-use, multifamily, residential and subdivision projects.

“We are excited to have Keith join our team to expand civil engineering services in the Los Angeles market,” said Radwan Madani, Principal of Ware Malcomb’s Los Angeles office. “His unique skill set, combined with Ware Malcomb’s firm-wide resources elevates our integrated service offerings to clients in the region.”

Malloy holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Connecticut. He is also a registered Professional Engineer in the state of California. He is an active member of the Urban Land Institute (ULI) Los Angeles chapter and the ULI Los Angeles Young Leaders Group.
